/ Have a little fun with your new theme by clicking the arrows to view the Theme Settings, then go and make the most of this cool theme, ah, the possibilities are endless! Note: Since this theme is based on the default theme, it might not have all the customizations of the default theme. Details for "zune carbon vista" Great quality The high definition graphics are just stunning, these are for the most part un-animated and seamless when it comes to rendering. Out of all the themes I've ever seen, this one really is a winner. Good look I love the way the original Zune theme only allowed one layer of sub-elements at a time (if I'm not mistaken, any z-depth showed itself as a sub-element). This theme takes that one step further by moving all of the elements to the default Zune theme level, and allowing more z-depth. Fun Although this theme is based off of the Zune theme, you can customize the colours quite a bit. I made the gradient on the "H" smaller and the gradient on the "P" a bit larger. You can also tinker with the font sizes and styles and the other elements, to give you a more fun way to look at Windows XP. Interesting things that would be difficult to do in previous themes This theme uses gradients for the window borders and the grey title bar. You can adjust the opacity of the gradient and this causes the pattern to be visible below the lower z-depth elements, like the taskbar, buttons, and menus. Customize One of the biggest things I like about this theme is that you can customize the colours, the shades of colours, the gradients, text sizes, and other properties to your hearts content. All of this is done by editing a single file. This theme is also based on the Zune theme, which it gets all the same cool features from the original. That means that you can create cute and unique Zune-like themes by simply adding a menu or two and modifying a single window. Summary If you love the original Zune theme, then this is

In vitro culture of Periplaneta americana Malpighi, 1758. The colon of Periplaneta americana was dissected out and weighed then placed on a glass slide in a Petri dish. The gut was floated out of the dish with moist filter paper and pinned out flat on the slide, covered with a cover glass, and incubated at 26°C for 3 h. The gut was fixed with a solution of glutaraldehyde (3%), which was left on the slide for 6-48 h and was then washed three times with 0.1 M sodium cacodylate buffer solution. The gut was then postfixated for 4 h with 1% osmium tetroxide and was then treated with uranyl acetate, dehydrated, and embedded in Epon 812, which was then sectioned and stained for electron microscopy. Pluralistic ignorance Pluralistic ignorance is a well-documented psychological phenomenon in which an individual does not realize they are participating in a discriminatory behavior. The person acts in a discriminatory manner, perceiving no personal risk, even though they are essentially part of a system that discriminates. Pluralistic ignorance can lead to discrimination because it prevents the group from realizing they are being discriminated against.
